CASMARA, INVENTOR OF THE ORIGINAL ALGAE PEEL OFF FACIAL MASK

HOW THEY ACT ON THE FACE

Masks based on MARINE ALGAE EXTRACTS with hydrating properties. The carbohydrates of these marine algae can solidify and form a plastic film that produces a certain pressure on the application area, enhancing the penetration of the previously applied active ingredients, as well as the active ingredients of the mask itself.

NOSE WRINKLES

These modeling masks help to redefine the facial contour, also acting on the expression wrinkles near the nose.

NECK WRINKLES

The cooling effect of the mask produces a muscle contraction in the neck and stimulates firming and toning of the tissues. At the same time, its composition has a revitalizing and strengthening effect on the elastic fibers of the skin.

FACIAL FLACCIDITY

The reduction of the skin temperature provoked by the mask produces a muscular contraction while it rests on the face, followed by a relaxation, which results in facial gymnastics and stimulates visible firming and toning of the skin.

PERIORBITAL AND PERIORAL WRINKLES

The capacity of the masks to dry from outside to inside, enhances the penetration of the active ingredients on the wrinkles around eyes and lips.

EYE BAGS

The application of the masks on the eyes produces lymphatic drainage and an anti-edema effect, avoiding liquid retention and diminishing eye bags.

FOREHEAD WRINKLES

Thanks to the masks’ composition, they help to diminish forehead wrinkles, improve elasticity of the skin tissue and polish the skin surface.
